DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 1-2, 5, 6, 15, 16, 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Eschweiler, Jr et al (#5,242,369).

Eschweiler shows a folding machine comprising a housing with an upper opening as shown in fig 1, a processing area including a first removable plate (fig 7) and second removable plate 15, 14, a paper input area 26 adjacent the first plate with a feeding mechanism 28 and a paper output area 24 for outputting the processed sheets. The plates comprise of two pieces and are attached with a stopper means as shown in fig2 with plate 12. This reads on a removable plate that is removably attached to fold plates as claimed since the plate will be removed with the removal of the stopper means.

Eschweiler shows a roller 20 mounted at the vertex of the table in a generally v-shape. Fig 7 shows the folding plate with corresponding slots so that a stopper runs through the slot means.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3721

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 24, 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eschweiler. Eschweiler do not show cartridge or stacking arms as claimed. However, the examiner takes official notice that replaceable cartridges and stacking arms are notoriously well known in the art.

Claims 7-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eschweiler in view of Bluthardt et al. Eschweiler does not show the indicia means as claimed.

However, Bluthardt teaches the basic concept of using indicia means as shown in fig 1a to identify different modes of operations. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide Eschweiler with indicia means as taught by Bluthardt et al to identify different modes of operation for a user. Regarding where the indicia are located is merely a matter of location of parts to enable the user to identify the different modes of operation. It has been held that there would be no invention in shifting parts to a different position since the operation of the device would not be modified. See in re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70 (CCPA 1950). Eschweiler discloses folding in half, in a z fold or standard fold which reads on including adjustment including one of folding types being claimed since a z –fold is one type of fold as claimed.

5. Claims 3, 4, 18-23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
